

Dear NR Guardians..

An editorial writing project is underway - can you contribute?

NRG members, as we discussed at the January meeting, it would be advantageous for NRG to have articles appear in local papers regularly to keep the NRG name in the forefront, inform the public of NRG activities, and encourage new members. These articles can be in addition to the letters to the editor that NRG members choose to submit from themselves.

Possible topics for NRG articles include: logging, water mining, issues relating to biodiversity, coal and coal-seam gas mining, rails as an alternative to roads, and sustainable living. That's only a few. Other ideas are welcome.

If you're interested in contributing an article send word to Dee

Nessel (ddnessel@gmail.com) so that she can set up a tentative schedule and keep things on track by sending reminders and reviewing drafts for the NRG executive committee to approve.

The goal is to have one or more articles appear each month in the local papers.

Hope to hear from you!
