

Shorten silent as Liberals approve Adani plan

The Federal Government has given the green light to the controversial Adani Carmichael mine's groundwater plan.

Sadly, I've just watched Bill Shorten yet again refuse to rule out stopping the mine.

Labor can no longer sit on the fence. If we turf out the climate-denying conservatives in a few weeks' time, Bill Shorten's government can decide if the Adani mine proceeds.

At every step, when push comes to shove, Bill Shorten and Labor cave in to the demands of the coal lobby, who line the pockets of their campaigns. He seems more worried about dealing with factions within the Labor party than backing real action on climate change.

The Adani mine is getting closer to reality and all signs point to Bill Shorten being the next Prime Minister of Australia. Now is the time for him to commit to stopping Adani.

No ifs, no buts: Labor must commit now to stopping Adani. We need to keep the pressure on Bill Shorten and the Labor party to stop the Adani coal mine. Can you help us share this message today?

Adam

PS - I want to stay in Parliament so I can hold Labor to account to deliver real action on climate change. Chip in \$5 and support my re-election campaign today

---

Adani's coal mine is one step closer to going ahead, but the fight isn't over.

Donate now to help us make this election all about stopping Adani, ending coal and action on climate change.

The Liberals have just given Adani a key water approval they need to start building their climate wrecking, water guzzling coal mine.

And to make things worse, yesterday Bill Shorten said that “we do” want fossil fuels to be a part of Australia’s energy mix in the future. With Shorten’s Labor non-committal about stopping the Adani mine, neither major party has a plan to genuinely deal with coal or climate change this election.

This news is devastating, but the election will be called in the coming days and with your help we can make sure this coal mine doesn’t go ahead.

Can you chip into our Stop Adani campaign fund and help us buy billboards, street posters and online ads to make this an election fought on climate change?

DONATE NOW

Since 2012, the Liberal and Labor parties have $8.2 million in donations from fossil fuel companies like Adani. In return, these vested interests have locked the major parties in to having no plan to deal with coal and no plan to ban new coal mines.

Unlike the major parties, we refuse to take donations from big corporations who want to influence us. Instead we are powered by contributions from thousands of individuals just like you who want to see real action on climate change.

It’s so important that we re-elect our MPs this election, so there is a strong Greens voice in the Senate to fight for action on climate change and to stop the next government from caving in to Adani. But to keep up with the multi-million dollar budgets of the major parties we need your help.

Can you help us kick the Liberals out and send a clear message to the Labor party that they need to stop Adani?

DONATE TO STOP ADANI

For a renewable future,

Senator Larissa Waters
Greens spokesperson for mining & resources